JFK Will Try To Prevent Rail Strike

By W. B. RAGSDALE, JR.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy steps into the railroad work rules dispute today, seeking to use his influence to head off a possible nationwide rail strike next week.

Kennedy scheduled a morning meeting with top negotiators for the railroads and five operating unions, giving him an opportunity to try his presidential persuasive power where others have failed for almost four years.

Also present will be Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, Asst. Secretary James J. Reynolds and Chairman Leverett Edwards of the National Mediation Board, who have been trying to mediate the dispute for almost two weeks.

After midnight Monday the railroads will be free to put into effect new work rules, which will result in the eventual elimination of some 40,000 firemen from freight and yard trains.

Once the railroads set a time for the rules to go into effect, the unions are expected to call a strike.

The announcement Friday night of the White House meeting came after negotiators apparently had made no progress in the past four weeks of negotiating.

A Labor Department spokesman refused to elaborate as to why the meeting with Kennedy was called. He would say only that Kennedy wanted to talk over the negotiations with both sides.

The five unions represent some 200,000 on-train employees. They are the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, Switchmen's Union of North America and Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Independent Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen.

Printing Contracts Returned

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Auditor Jimmie Jones returned $500,000 worth of state printing contracts to the secretary of state today, saying they contain major discrepancies and must be clarified.

Jones, who has the responsibility of administering and carrying out the contracts after the bids are let, said he would not approve them in their present form.

"I find, in my opinion, an acute need for change and clarification in order that I may adequately carry out my duties justly and fairly for all concerned," Jones told Secretary of State Kelly Bryant in an 18-page memorandum.

Bryant declined comment.

Copies of the memorandum went to Gov. Orval E. Faubus, Treasurer Nancy Hall, and members of the state printing board.

The contracts have been advertised for bids and bids are to be opened and contracts let June 21.

"Since I alone am designated by law through the state printing clerk with the responsibility of administering and carrying out these contracts, I am vitally interested in how they are written," Jones wrote.

100 Degrees in Many Areas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Temperatures soared to the 100-degree mark in many areas of Arkansas Thursday and another scorching was in prospect today.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said the system of weak low pressure areas which controls Arkansas weather shows little prospect of a change in the next few days.

The state had scattered showers again Thursday, and a pattern of showers and light rain covered western Arkansas today, but most areas still lacked adequate moisture for crops.

Maximum temperatures Thursday ranged from 94 degrees at Fayetteville to 101 at Fort Smith. Little Rock reported 100. Minimums Thursday night ranged between 69 at Fayetteville and 80 at Texarkana.

Today's highs were forecast in the 94 to 100-degree range.

Weather

Partly cloudy and continued hot today and tonight with isolated thundershowers.

Says Cities Must Increase Service

NEWPORT, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas cities must increase their services if they are to compete with northern cities in luring industry, the president of the state Chamber of Commerce told the Newport chamber Thursday night.

W. M. Shepherd of Little Rock, the state executive, completed a three-day speaking tour in 14 northeast Arkansas cities with the Newport appearance.

He said Arkansas cities spend less per capita for municipal services than do northern competitors for industry, or even by cities in some neighboring states.

"Although almost everyone abhors additional taxes," Shepherd said, "Arkansans must face the fact that for Arkansas cities to achieve equality with competitors means generally higher expenditure levels and higher taxes."

"There is no avoiding the conclusion that more revenue for municipal operation is a necessity in most Arkansas cities," Shepherd said.

Reds May Put First Woman Into Space

MOSCOW (AP)—Russia's fifth cosmonaut continued to loop the globe amid reports that the world's first spacewoman would follow him into orbit, perhaps today.

A Moscow radio report at 8 a.m. (1 a.m. EST) carried the voice of Lt. Col. Valery Fedorovich Bykovsky from outer space, saying he had completed 17 hours in orbit and all was well.

By 8:30 a.m. he had completed 12 orbits, Tass News Agency said. There was no official announcement that a second space craft would follow Bykovsky's Vostok 5, but both Soviet and Communist correspondents from other Red countries said a 25-year-old girl named Ludmilla was ready to take off from a launching pad in central Siberia.

Plans called for Bykovsky to stay up for five days and to be joined by a woman cosmonaut in parallel orbit sometime during the flight, these same sources said.

Ludmilla reportedly passed all test better than the class of men that went through training with her, especially in her ability to bear weightlessness. Most reports estimated she would stay up 24 hours or less.

Premier Khrushchev disclosed the Bykovsky launching Friday at a meeting with Harold Wilson, visiting head of the British Labor party, and broadly hinted a second flight was in the works.

The launching of Bykovsky put the Soviet Union one up on the United States in manned orbital missions and prospects are slim that the West will close the gap within the next year.

U.S. authorities announced Wednesday the end of Project Mercury after four one-man orbital flights. The first two-man Gemini is not expected to go into orbital flight until late 1964 or early 1965.

In Washington the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) reserved comment on Bykovsky's flight.

Bykovsky, a 28-year-old fighter pilot, was hurled into space from an unidentified rocket base at 3 p.m. Friday. A Moscow television station broadcast at 7:30 p.m. (12:30 p.m. EST) a remote control shot of the cosmonaut from

Mason Building Cornerstone Revealed some Interesting Items From Back in 1904

By MARY ANITA LASETER
Star Feature Writer

The recent remodeling of the local Masonic Building disclosed a copy of the items placed in the cornerstone of St. Mark's Episcopal Church on May 19, 1904. One-third of the paper has been lost, but the list of items in St. Mark's cornerstone which remains intact includes:

One copy ARKANSAS GAZETTE, Little Rock May 19, 1904; one copy, ARKANSAS DEMOCRAT, Little Rock, May 19, 1904; one copy, ARKANSAS DEMOCRAT, Little Rock, December 20, 1903; one copy, STAR OF HOPE, May 18, 1904; one copy, HOPE GAZETTE, May 19, 1904; rules and the course of study in Hope Public Schools; officers of Hempstead County and the City of Hope, officers and directors of the Hempstead County Bank, the Bank of Hope, and the Citizens National Bank; list of ministers of Hope churches; vestry and building committee of St. Mark's; a 1903 half dollar; a 1903 quarter dollar.

According to Ray Baker Harris in "The Laying of Cornerstones," this ceremony at a public building has been done by Masonic Lodge in America for 200 years or more, and earlier in the British Isles. The laying of cornerstones was a tradition inherited by the stone masons of England in the period between the 10th and 17th centuries. The earliest record of a formal and official Masonic cornerstone laying is that of the New Royal Infirmary of Edinburgh, Scotland.

In America, the cornerstone for the White House was laid in 1792, and the one for the U.S. Capitol in 1793. Other local public buildings which had Masonic ceremonies to lay their cornerstones besides St. Mark's were the county courthouse and the Memorial Hospital.

Quoting again from the Harris book: Mankind has always indulged, it seems, a deep impulse to communicate something of himself and his times to those destined to inherit the earth at a far distant day. So consistent has been this pattern of performance, we may almost regard it as a part of the Great Architect's divine plan. Most of our knowledge of the history of the ancient world has been revealed to us in fragments from deposits or other evidences discovered by archaeologists in vaults or crypts, in hollow columns, in recesses and other parts of ancient buildings, in temples, pyramids, monuments and other edifices. In God's good time further knowledge of the past is certain to be uncovered for our enlightenment, and as we have already learned: knowledge previously unknown is capable of altering the meaning and significance of what we know now.

The ceremony of dedication that Masons use is very similar to the cornerstone laying ceremony. Portions of Corn, Wine, and Oil are introduced into the ceremony and applied both physically and symbolically to the stone. These rites of consecration are solemn and instructive. In the dedication ceremony the object whatever it is, is dedicated to the Honor of Freemasonry, to Virtue, and to Universal Benevolence.

On July 4 of this year in Washington, Ark., a dedication ceremony will be held as part of the Civil War Centennial observance recognizing the arrival of the legislature and government from Little Rock to Washington. The Grand Lodge of Arkansas is making an effort to make this an outstanding Masonic event, and several hundred Masons, their families, and friends are expected to attend.

Pleas Heard in Circuit Court Here

Pleas were heard in Hempstead Circuit Court yesterday by Judge Lyle Brown.

Martha Bogan, charged on two counts, grand larceny by false pretense and grand larceny by bailment, pleaded not guilty and bond was fixed at $1,500. She was charged in connection with allegedly obtaining $2,100 from a Hempstead couple.

Elbert Williams, Negro, pleaded guilty to burglary and grand larceny and was given a suspended five year sentence. He admitted stealing a shotgun from the home of Jerry Nelson.

Willie Harris Jr., charged with forgery and uttering and the theft of checks, entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to five years in the Arkansas penitentiary.

Mikoyan Visited by British Leader

MOSCOW (AP)—Harold Wilson, leader of Britain's Labor party, has called on First Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan, who has been ailing since early May with kidney trouble. They spent 90 minutes at Mikoyan's dacha near Moscow.

Afterward, Wilson said Mikoyan is "obviously a lot better but not yet 100 per cent." He described the visit Thursday as a social call and said foreign affairs were not discussed. He said they talked about trade, industrial development and personal matters.

Dallas Hospital Bid

FORDYCE, Ark. (AP) — W. C. Burrow of Malvern was apparent low bidder Thursday at $424,290, on construction of additions to the Dallas County Hospital.

Man's Body Found in Wooded Area

BENTON, Ark. (AP) — The brutally beaten body of a 43-year-old Benton man was found Thursday night in a wooded area one-half mile east of the Benton city limits.

Saline County Sheriff Guy Grant identified the man as Frank Hobbs, who was reported missing last Friday.

Grant said he has been holding since Tuesday a man who was last seen with Hobbs and that the man would be questioned in connection with the slaying. Grant did not release his name.

The sheriff said Hobbs was "brutally beaten on the head with a piece of concrete block."

Grant's staff and city police had been searching for Hobbs since last Friday. Grant said finding of the block, which had blood stains and pieces of human hair on it, led to the body.

"We had some information on where the block might be," Grant said. "We didn't pass up any tips."

Grant said there were signs near the block of something having been dragged. Officers followed this trail and found the body in a shallow grave under some brush.

The sheriff said the man being held was known to have picked up Hobbs at Hobbs' home about 4:30 p.m. Friday. Hobbs was not seen alive after that.

Jonesboro Library

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — M. and M. Construction Co. of Jonesboro was apparent low bidder Thursday, at $288,206, for construction of a new Craighead County Library. A bond issue to provide funds for the building was approved recently.

Don't Assume, Employers Told

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Employers should not assume that their employees are not covered by the federal Wage and Hour Law, a regional manager for the Labor Department said Thursday.

Sterling P. Williams of Birmingham told a Little Rock civic club that exemptions under the law are "construed narrowly" and that borderline cases should be assumed to fall under the law unless the employer is willing to take a chance on a major back-wages claim later.

A 1961 amendment added terms to the law that probably will take years of court decisions to define properly, Williams said. One of these concerns persons employed in enterprises close enough to interstate commerce to be classified under the law.

Progress Is Made Against Leukemia

By FRANK E. CAREY

WASHINGTON (AP)—New and dramatic advances have been made in the last two years against acute leukemia.

That's the presently incurable blood-cancer disease that recently killed Ernie Davis, the great Negro football player of Syracuse University and the Cleveland Browns.

Government cancer fighters say there are grounds for hope that additional major gains will be achieved in the years ahead in prolonging the life of victims of this strange malady, which occurs in various forms in both children and adults.

Lesser gains are being made against chronic leukemia — the kind that recently killed Rep. Francis E. Walter, D-Pa., 69, who was chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Three new drugs have been developed since 1961 against acute leukemia—two of them in the past year. This brings to six the number of drug weapons against the malady.

Leukemia kills about 14,000 people annually, and adds some 16,000 new cases every year to the approximately 800,000 Americans suffering from all forms of cancer at any given time.

Leukemia, for reasons unknown, has been on the increase in the last few decades.

Even with the new drugs, life-prolongation in acute leukemia still averages less than two years. But there have been notable exceptions of victims surviving up to 13 years after the initial diagnosis. Drug benefits are limited largely to children.

Fifteen years ago, victims of acute leukemia almost invariably died within three or four months after the initial diagnosis. Some died within a few days.

Chronic leukemia, while also ultimately fatal, is much slower to kill. The average survival is three to five years, but a few victims may live 10 years or longer. Notable cases have survived almost 40 years.

One of the three new drugs, called Vincristine, is an extract of the periwinkle plant, a form of myrtle. Another, called Methy-Gag for short, is an entirely new type of compound among some two dozen chemicals, out of literally thousands tested so far, which have been found useful against various types of cancer.

The third new one, called Cyclophosphamide, is a new member of a class of compounds called nitrogen mustards, the first of which originally was used as a poison gas in World War I.

Researchers and grantees of the National Cancer Institute see promising possibilities in "team" application of the drugs—what is, using varied combinations against the foe, which inexorably develops resistance to a given individual drug.

Researchers have developed two new "supportive" treatments which show promise of forestalling death in other ways—thus giving additional time to allow the drugs to produce their maximum punch.

Money for Art

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Commercial National Bank of Little Rock says it will lend money to persons with acceptable credit ratings so they can buy original works, prints, drawings and sculpture from the Arkansas Arts Center's Lending-Purchase Gallery.

School for Rogers

ROGERS, Ark. (AP) — An apparent low bid of $77,470 was submitted Thursday by Garner-Larimore, Inc. of Rogers on additions to Northside Elementary school at Rogers.

Washington Has Racial Demonstration

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington's biggest racial protest was safely over today, but it left the nation's capital worriedly aware that it will not be by-passed by the rising tide of Negro militancy.

Placard-carrying Negro and white marchers flowed down Pennsylvania Avenue Friday, after prayers across from the White House, in numbers that swelled to perhaps 3,000 at the height of the demonstration.

Spirits were high. Spectators, tourists and federal office workers flocked to watch and mingle, and the police helped speed the moving throng along. There was one arrest—a motorist who failed to get out of the way.

The marchers scored one victory, the promise of a ban on housing bias this year. Their leaders declared themselves satisfied that they had put across their other chief demand—an end to racial discrimination in hiring.

But there was no sign that planning would be halted for a second and great demonstration here—a proposed massive "sit-in" on Capitol Hill while Congress debates or filibusters a civil rights bill this summer.

The marchers, coached to avoid behavior that might lead accidentally to violence, were in near-holiday mood. Probably one in every five was white. All were well dressed, and many towed small children along.

They showed amused tolerance at Black Muslim youths who sold newspapers preaching black supremacy, and gazed coldly but calmly at a tiny detachment of counter-demonstrators from the American Nazi party.

Injunction Holds, High Court Rules

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court refused today to dissolve an injunction issued by a Mississippi state court to bar racial demonstrations in Jackson, Miss.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and several individuals had asked Justice Black to dissolve, or to stay effectiveness of the injunction.

Black submitted the request to the full court and it was considered today in a closed conference. After the conference, the court issued this statement:

"The petition for stay and dissolution of an injunction issued a state court submitted to Mr. Justice Black, and by him submitted to the full court, after due consideration is denied by the court."

The injunction was issued June 6 by the Chancery Court of the 1st Judicial Circuit, Hinds County, Miss. Judge J. C. Stennet at the time of the issuance said that further demonstrations in Jackson would result in violence and bloodshed.

Told to Take Part in Politics

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus told delegates to the American Legion Auxiliary's Girls State Thursday night that women are becoming more and more important in politics.

Faubus said he has appointed women to fill almost every elective office in the state when vacancies have occurred.

He said many have done better work than men, particularly in clerical tasks.

Ruling Favors Jury Members

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Attorney General's office has ruled that a person who is sworn to answer questions touching on his qualifications as a juror is entitled to pay of $7.50 whether he serves as a juror or not. The opinion, to Clay County Judge Ernest Thomas, said a person who attends court, but is excused from jury duty, is entitled to a $5 fee.

Everyone wonders what makes the world go round, with so many squares trying to run it.

Words Only Small Part of Solution

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Events proved what President Kennedy acknowledged in his talk to the nation: that words are only a small part of the solution to the racial struggle.

Within 24 hours after he appealed for the support of all citizens in trying to end discrimination against Negroes, this happened:

A Negro leader was shot dead in Mississippi, three white men were wounded and two Negroes stoned in street fighting in Maryland, and Southern Democrats in Congress announced defiance to Kennedy's civil rights proposals.

Last September violence came even faster when Kennedy asked nation-wide for peace in race relations.

That time, in the very midst of his request that James H. Meredith, a Negro, be quietly enrolled in the University of Mississippi, there was rioting on the campus against U.S. marshals and two men were killed.

The lesson seems plain from the events after Kennedy's two appeals to reason:

The search for equal rights for Negroes, even though they're entitled to them under the Constitution, will be long and probably bloody unless some great racial disaster, like a huge riot, shocks the nation into truly united action.

If that happens it will be a tragic commentary on America's inability to find through reason the long-delayed solution.

Kennedy made it clear in his address to the nation Tuesday night that he talked of the "domestic crisis" in the nation now and about the threat of violence and the threat to lives.

Negroes, afraid for almost 100 years to act on their own in protest in the white-dominated world of the South, have discovered that when they act together, and in masses, they must be listened to.

What may come out of this new and sudden realization of strength is unpredictable. For when they see one of their nonviolent leaders murdered, as in Mississippi, the other nonviolent leaders may be hurried aside for more direct action.

Yet, the Southern Democratic senators in Congress sound now as if this were back in the days of the 1940s when Negroes were still unsure and unorganized and offered no danger to the Southern whites determined to keep segregation.

Wednesday, before Kennedy even sent his new civil rights proposals to Congress, 18 Southern senators met and then their leader, Richard B. Russell of Georgia, had some words to say.

He pledged a powerful Southern Democratic fight — meaning, of course, a filibuster — against Kennedy's civil rights proposals although the administration apparently hasn't finished drawing them up.

Kennedy, through his whole administration up to now, has tried to keep the Southern Democrats pacified. If they didn't get mad at him, they could be helpful on other legislation besides civil rights.

This explains one good reason why he hasn't, until now, made any fight for truly strong civil rights laws.

2,069 in State Summer School

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas State marked a record summer school enrollment today of 2,069 students and officials predicted the figure would hit 2,100 before registration ends Friday.

The old record was 1,944, set last year. The new total includes 1,729 undergraduate and 340 graduate students.

Letters to the Editor

This is your newspaper. Write to it. Letters criticizing the editorial policy or commenting upon facts in the news columns, are equally welcome. Every writer must sign his name and address.

Editor of Hope Star: "I noticed some days back where Hempstead County was to have a dairy show."

"This brings to my memory some facts of the teens about two individuals that pioneered in the dairy business, and maybe a third should be mentioned."

"I am referring to E. S. Greening who had a dairy farm in general and a Jersey breeding farm in particular just out of town on the Rocky Mound road. Mr. Rufus Haynes had the same kind of setup on the Shover Springs road."

"Now these men pooled their resources and went out of the county, yes, out of the state even, to import breeding bulls. And they both used them to improve their respective herds, used for several months at a time, and then returned them."

"The Lassiter Palfurrra, Texas, I believe, was one source of obtaining these bulls. I cannot guarantee the last paragraph as some 50 years have gone by, so you see I'm on the high side of the 60s. Seems to me they paid $1,500 and express for one male, which probably cost them around $2,000."

"The third man was Mr. W. O. Hart, who at that time managed the telephone exchange. He had a farm and small herd. The farm was located at the forks of the Shover Springs and Bodew road and I worked for him. Mr. Greening and Mr. Haynes would let him breed choice cows to this bull."

"These men surely ought to have a place in Hempstead County's dairy history. I suppose they have gone to their reward?"

Sincerely,

Letters You Want But Never Get

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Fragments from letters we'd like to get—but never do:

"We regret to inform you of the passing of your great uncle, Oswald Frothingham-Frisbie, who choked to death on a martini olive. In his will he left you a 30,000-acre sheep ranch in Australia and his pet kangaroo."

"As a dentist who takes pride in his profession, I have been suffering conscience pangs because of the $400 fee I charged for making your upper plate. I realize now I shouldn't have put the bite on you for that much, as the job really wasn't worth it. Therefore I am sending you herewith a rebate check for $250—and the next time you come in for a checkup I'll clean your lower teeth for nothing."

"We are delighted to give you the good news that you have won first prize in the Republican party's nationwide 50-word essay contest, 'What Calvin Coolidge Means to Me.' In addition to the free trip to Hawaii for you and your wife, we are pleased to send you a framed autographed picture of Mr. Coolidge and an Indian head penny found in the pocket of a suit in his closet. It is believed by local historians to be the first penny he ever earned."

"Darling, forget the fact that father is an immensely wealthy man who looks upon you as a mere fortune hunter. After all, we won't be dependent on him. Grandmother left me 30 acres of downtown Dallas in my own right, and as soon as we're married I'll give half of it to you. Of course, if you don't think we'd be happy in Dallas, we could sell our real estate there—and buy Fort Worth or Houston."

"I know mother had her heart set on a big wedding for me, Dad, dykins, but it would be such a terrible bother—and the reception and everything would cost you $1,000 or maybe $1,500. So George and I just decided to elope and get married by a justice of the peace. Will you forgive us?"

"During my visit here with mother, darling, I've had more time to think over the idea of buying that mink coat, and have decided it would be foolish. Fur makes me look too fat. So, if you haven't already borrowed the money from the bank, forget it. An inexpensive cloth coat will do nicely, and I can pay for that myself out of what I've saved from the household budget."

Loans to Three Arkansas Cities

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Federal loans totaling $240,500 have been approved for three Arkansas cities for fire protection and sanitary water supplies.

The loans were announced by the Farmers Home Administration. Greenway (Clay County) will get $71,500. Bono (Craighead County) will get $106,500. And Pollard (Clay County) will get $62,500.

Residents of the three communities now have only private wells as sources of water, the FHA said. Loan funds will be used to construct distribution systems and water supply wells with an output of 250 gallons per minute. There will be elevated storage tanks at Bono and Greenway.

The loans will be repaid over 40 years.

None of the cities now have fire protection, the FHA said.

Russia Sends Up Another Cosmonaut

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Khrushchev announced another Soviet cosmonaut was launched into orbit today.

Called the Vostok V, the space craft was rocketed into space with a Lt. Col. Valery Fudorovich Bykovsky at the controls. It is the fifth manned flight announced by the Soviet Union.

The last Vostok (East) ships were launched Aug. 11, 1962, and Aug. 12, 1962. Cosmonauts Andriy Nikolayev and Pavel Popovich came close to one another while in orbit and were christened "The Heavenly Twins."

Khrushchev made the announcement to Harold Wilson at a meeting in the Kremlin shortly before the British Labor party leader prepared to end a visit to Moscow.

The Moscow radio said the space ship was functioning normally.

Bykovsky was said to be making a revolution of the earth every 88 minutes. His ship was launched from an unidentified rocket base at 3 p. m. Moscow time (7 a. m. EST), it said.

Khrushchev was immediately asked how many men were up in space and he promptly replied: "One man so far."

He held his arms wide to emphasize his comment.

TV Season Wasn't Very Exciting

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Television's evening programs on the network this past season cost close to $800 million, counting production and time.

Now, at season's end, it is fair to ask what kind of television year it has been. The answer, underscored by the recent Emmy awards: unexciting.

At any rate, television's most memorable moments during the past season, as far as this viewer is concerned, came in the documentary and news areas.

"The Tunnel," which picked up the "program of the year" Emmy was a thoroughly gripping program, full of real suspense even if we did know at the outset that many people were to escape to freedom in the West through the escape passage dug under the Berlin wall.

But "The Kremlin," broadcast too late to qualify for this season's honors lists, is my candidate for television's finest hour of the year.

The cream of the entertainment shows were ones which, for a second year, took pains with scripts and performances. "The Defenders" had a point to make most weeks and made it in valid dramatic terms. "The Dick Van Dyke Show" was not only funny, but witty and charming.

It was a sorry year for original drama. The carefully produced "Hall of Fame" specials lacked zing. With a couple of outstanding exceptions — "The Outpost," an off-beat morality play, and "Big Deal in Laredo," a really amusing comedy — the Sunday night "Show of the Week" dramas were disappointing.

The variety shows had a tendency to look and sound alike, particularly because they all seemed to be using the same list of guest stars. Exceptions were "The Garry Moore Show," usually bright and fresh, and "The Andy Williams Show," handsomely mounted and in excellent taste.

The Ed Sullivan Show, dean of the category, showed signs of age — or maybe some of us are getting tired of the format.

over a period of five years, had been concluded. The new U.S. program, called Gemini, probably will not send any Americans into space before 1965.

Arkansas was the 25th state to be admitted to the Union.

THERE IS ALWAYS HOPE

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: Not long ago you wrote about a young girl of 14 whose father was drunk every night when he came home from work and, as a consequence, got angry with her mother and brother and occasionally her. She seemed to understand her father better than the others did but still found it mighty hard to take. Her letter was signed, "Need Help."

Please tell "Need Help" that there are two organizations designed especially to help the relatives of alcoholics live with the problem. accept it, understand it, and, above all, not aggravate it. These organizations are Al-Anon and Al-A-Teen. Need Help's mother would benefit greatly from Al-Anon because she would find that her husband has a kind of illness or addiction which leads him to crave drink at a certain time every day after work, thus hurting those he loves the most, to say nothing of himself.

A normal drinker can stop any time and never becomes anti-social, or violent or uncontrollable. The girl's mother would be able to compare her problem with those of others and find that she can let her husband rant, rave and complain and not be bothered because she will see the habit for what it is, a sickness. Also, she may discover that his problem may be partly her fault. Once realized, this can be corrected.

The girl herself sounds so well.

Dear Helen: I sure hate to see my little grandchildren watch those semi-nude shows on TV. In my time that kind of spectacle was done behind closed doors and decent people should speak up on the subject, don't you? —A reader

Dear Reader: If you don't approve of a TV show, write the station which broadcasts it. But it's been my experience that children would far rather see a Western or comics than shows such as you describe. To most youngsters, these shows are incomprehensible and therefore boring. I'm speaking of the small fry. If it's teens you refer to, I'd say the pattern of their lives has already been set. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "Our Fine Teenagers."

Dear Helen: Will you kindly print a list of books which would be helpful to the sex adjustment of a young married couple? —Mother-of-the-Bride

Dear Mother-of-the-Bride: The most popular books on this subject are:

"The Art of Staying Happily Married" by Robert W. Burns, published by Prentice-Hall, Inc., $3.95;

"Handbook for Husbands and Wives" paperback, by Theodore Arden, Association Press, $5.00;

"Art and Science of Love" by Elbert Ellis, published by Lyle Stuart, $7.95;

"The Marriage Art" by Dr. John E. Eichenlaub, also published by Lyle Stuart, $6.

Have you a problem? Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help you. Write her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Life Guards Selected
Douglas Dennis and James Johnson were selected life guards for the City Park Thursday by David Watkins and Harold Douglas, water safety instructors, stated C. B. Smith, City Park commission chairman.

Nine boys took part in the test. The instructors made their selection after they had given a series of demonstrations and the boys had made several trial runs. The results were as follows: Douglas Dennis first place; James Johnson, second; and Freddie Huntley, third. The instructors stated that the life saving ability of both Dennis and Johnson were nearly the same.

Next Pope Sure to Be an Italian

By JAMES M. LONG
VATICAN CITY (AP) — The next Pope almost certainly will be an Italian, probably will not be a member of the enthrone Vatican Curia and likely will be between 63 and 73 years old.

But whether he will be one of the so-called progressives following the road opened by Pope John XXIII, or one of the conservatives who oppose such a course will be the big question before the conclave of cardinals opening here next Wednesday. He might be a moderate belonging to neither group.

The main guesses are these: The most likely choices are Giovanni Cardinal Urbani, who succeeded Pope John as patriarch of Venice, and Giacomo Cardinal Lecaro, archbishop of Bologna. Urbani is 63, youngest of the favorites. Lecaro is 71. Both are progressives but neither is regarded as among the more militant of the liberals.

Widely considered to follow as possible choices are Carlo Cardinal Confalonieri, and Giovanni Battista Cardinal Montini, archbishop of Milan.

Confalonieri, 69, a moderate between the progressive and conservative groups, might be chosen for just that reason, in compromise. But he is a member of the Vatican Curia, and Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli, who became Pope Pius XII, was the only Curia cardinal elevated to the papacy after 1831.

Montini, 65, is a progressive, a former Vatican pro-secretary of state, and a man who even at the last conclave, when he was not yet a cardinal, was regarded as a strong possibility for the papacy.

Next three most prominently mentioned are Paolo Cardinal Marrella, Alfonso Cardinal Castaldo, and Francesco Cardinal Roberti. Marrella, 68, is archbishop of St. Peter's Basilica and, like Confalonieri, a moderate. Castaldo, 72, archbishop of Naples, and Roberti, 73, a legal expert of the Curia, both lean slightly to the conservative side.

The election of a non-Italian is regarded as highly unlikely. The last non-Italian Pope was the Dutch Adrian VI, elected in 1522. No American cardinal is regarded as having a chance.

Accountants to Meet
HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Mortimer Caplin, commissioner of the Internal Revenue Service, will speak at the 19th annual Southern States Conference of Certified Public Accountants, which began Sunday at Hot Springs. The conference ends Wednesday.

of equipment for an elementary school picnic got fouled up. Mama was the first assistant chief room mother in charge of the first 3,000 details of the picnic. Figuring that on the day of said picnic her car would be overflowing with paper cups, napkins, plates, etc., she asked hubby, if on his way to work he would deliver the equipment to the picnic grounds. She would take the food later.

Papa did.
About 9:30 that morning he was in city hall for a meeting when Police Chief Charley Short called him aside and said "Let me show you the darndest thing" There in his office was a stack of paper cups, napkins, plates, etc.

"How'd you get that?" papa asked.
"Lady reported some man set it down and a couple of boys came up and started to walk off with it. We caught the boys and brought the stuff here," Short answered.

Papa explained, and Short agreed to have a police car deliver it right at noon.
Mama soon called: "Just how come the police delivered our picnic supplies?"

"It's a long story," was the weary answer.

Thanks, Dad!

It is Father's Day! May we honor the guy whose heart is as tender as a woman's... the fellow whose respect is as genuine as that of a mother. This nationally celebrated day for Father didn't come too soon. For Dad is the guy who dared the wiles of the forest and the death-dealing miseries of the prairie, to insure added comforts for Mom, and Sue, and Dan. The taming of the west is actually the story of gruff ole 'Pop' in his triumph over difficulty and danger to make a finer future for those he loved. He was the hardy pathmaker for our feet.

Gifts for Father? Yes, but much better would be a gracious, kind word of thanks for all his sacrifices through the year. On this celebrated day, say a prayer to the great Father God, for happiness and comradeship that will soften the burdens of the remaining years, and make the last ones truly his most Golden Years.

You In The Church
The Church In You
— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

THE CHURCHES OF THIS COMMUNITY ARE THE ONLY INSTITUTIONS WHICH HAVE AS THEIR MAIN FUNCTION, THE TRANSFORMING OF HUMAN LIVES. THEY ARE THE SIGN BOARDS POINTING THE WAY TO GOD.

Sponsors of these messages urge faithful church support. Through these pages the appeal is for all men to stand up and be counted . . . to combat Communism on all fronts . . . to be faithful to God.

OUR PASTORS ARE GOD'S SERVANTS WHO CALL THE SIGNALS AGAINST THE ORGANIZED FORCES OF EVIL. THEY INVITE YOU TO ENLIST ON THE SIDE FOR GOD . . .

Be Strong in FAITH and Regular in ATTENDANCE at your CHURCH
